Advisory Board

For the Active Cities Project, an Advisory Board will be set up. Its role will be to give expert advice on the project methodology and implementation. We have reached out to several contacts in the extended networks of ISCA and 8-80 Cities for this role and received positive feedback. However, as some key profiles could not commit due to involvement in other 100 & Change MacArthur Foundation proposals (but were keen to commit in case they do not proceed in the scheme), we have decided not to enclose an incomplete list. The expert profiles we intend to include are, amongst others, from the following organisations

- Project for Public Spaces
- Nike, inc.
- City of Copenhagen
- Better Block
- University of Cassino and Southern Lazio (Italy), Department of Human Sciences, Society and Health; Epidemiology, Physical Activity, and Life Styles Section
- Gehl Architects
- Department of Sports Science and Clinical Biomechanics University of Southern Denmark, Centre for Active Living
