Key EU stakeholders, such as Members of the European Parliament and the European Commission, are invited to join the debates, and to engage with sport organizations in order to openly address common challenges. Cross-sector cooperation, learning and innovation are some of the main drivers for the development of the physical activity sector. In that spirit further stakeholders such as academics, ministry and city officials, businesses, community organizers, and medical experts will also join the conference and be part of the active forum of 350 people.

If you are interested in meeting the challenges in Sport for All, join us in Copenhagen on March 19-20, 2012!

On behalf of the Congress Consortium,

Yours sincerely

Uffe Elbæk

HOW CAN SPORT FOR ALL CONTRIBUTE TO THE EU 2020 STRATEGY OF SMART, SUSTAINABLE AND INCLUSIVE GROWTH?

If 'Sport for All' is to become more than a slogan in the EU and be a positive contributor to the EU Sport Policy and EU 2020 strategy of smart, sustainable and inclusive growth, a series of challenges and developments need to be addressed.

These challenges include securing adequate financial and structural support for grassroots sport and the real health and social inclusion potential in grassroots sport. Therefore, we need to identify and develop the roles of both well-known and new actors in the field of public and private, commercial and non-profit spheres of sport for all.

The track themes include:

- › broader participation in sport and physical activity in Europe
- › the economic importance of sport for all in the European societies
- › funding of sport for all from local to national level
- › sport for all and social inclusion
- › developing and maintaining facilities for sport for all
- › sport for all and health
- › sport for all and the commercial sport offers

Fitness Doping

STRATEGY FOR STOPPING STEROIDS

The 'Strategy for Stopping Steroids' track will be a unique opportunity to share knowledge and experience on the current European effort regarding the abuse of steroids in fitness centres and in sport for all in general. The track will outline good practices and give valuable insight in how to start and to carry out efforts on the matter of preventing and stopping the use of steroids. The track will be based on the co-European report "Strategy for Stopping Steroids", a report that will be released in connection to the conference. This report is a result of the partnership of Anti-doping organizations and drug prevention units in The Netherlands, Sweden, Poland, Cyprus and Denmark.

The main topics will be:

- › legislation
- › doping control models
- › preventive work
- › financial structure of initiatives towards doping free fitness centres
- › youth culture and risk behaviour
- › trafficking of doping substances to and within Europe
- › medical focus on the abuse of steroids

The track will address participation of decision makers, European national anti-doping organizations (NADO's), scientists and authorities working with the fight against doping.

Volunteering

VOLUNTEERS MAKE A DIFFERENCE!

The 'Volunteers make a difference' track will be an opportunity to discuss recent strategic challenges in volunteering and to outline recommendations for the European policy makers. This will be a timely follow-up on the 2011 European Year of Volunteering and the Aarhus Declaration on volunteering of the EU Sport Ministers from 2002 (http://ec.europa.eu/sport/white-paper/swd-the-societal-role-of-sport_en.htm).

The conference will in particular address challenges in volunteering for sport for all, notably the

- › education
- › recognition
- › legal frameworks
- › recruitment
- › retention
- › and funding

of volunteers.

The track is also the closing conference of the International Sport and Culture Association's EU supported EuroVolNet project (www.eurovolnet.info), and will as such present project results and launch the EuroVolNet Online Tutorial.

Participant Profile

The European SPORTVISION2012 Conference addresses diverse target groups – from political decision makers to club coaches, from medical doctors to local activists, from private businesses to international institutions, from sport organisations to city administrators. The diversity of the attending stakeholders is one of the strengths of the conference and it will ensure the creation of a vibrant atmosphere at SPORTVISION2012.

The conference will provide a platform for attending participants and stakeholders to discuss and align strategies in order to reap the full benefits of active European societies.

Expand your networks, get the latest knowledge and best practises, and create valuable alliances at one of the most important sport political events of 2012.

Draft Programme

The programme will be packed with inspiring speakers, best practice stories and interactive seminars. We also strive to offer a well planned social programme that gives you the opportunity to not only see the city of Copenhagen but also to have informal meetings and talks with peers from other countries with a view to promoting new networks and collaborations.

Call for Open Market and Poster Fair!

It is our pleasure to invite you to submit Fair presentation for the "SPORTVISION2012 – OPEN MARKET and POSTER FAIR".

The OPEN MARKET and POSTER FAIR is an open exhibition showcasing one or more of the SPORTVISION2012 thematic fields as good examples. The exhibition will run throughout the Conference with the possibility for presenters to present their project/programs/activities or/and research-based presentations during the coffee breaks and lunches on 19 - 20 March 2012.

We welcome both scientific research and good practice on local, national and international level.

To achieve an alternative way of sharing information about projects/programs/activities and research we suggest the following presentation styles:

- › Poster presentations
- › Leaflets, Brochures and other printed materials
- › DVD presentations
- › Games, Plays and/or Sport activities.

Presented materials must be in English.

The evaluation committee will send a response to applicants on a running basis. You will get an answer within 2 weeks after submission. Organizers will cover one night simple accommodation for accepted fair presenters (19. – 20.3.2012).
